Since I was a child I hear a story that involves the city where I was born, this story is about a hunter, who for a long time hunted in the region that today is called Santo Antônio, my city, or as some call it: Santo Antônio do Salto da Onça. This name was given, according to some, because of a jaguar that, in an attempt to flee from a hunter, jumped from one rock to another, but in the middle of the jump ended up being shot by him, thus giving rise to the name Santo Antônio do Salto da Onça.

Exercício simples:

01 - Called e Jumped esses dois verbos regulares estão no passado, volte ao texto e circule a forma normal deles.

02 - Segundo o texto lido, qual a ação que a onça fez na tentativa de fugir do caçador?
