

ENGLISH

- “There was a tapir with an evil spirit in the territory. One day, a cunning hunter managed to trap the animal in a trap. Eager to remove the spell from the tapir, the hunter set out to skin the animal alive. But right at the first cut, the tapir managed to escape, leaving its skin behind and penetrating into the woods”

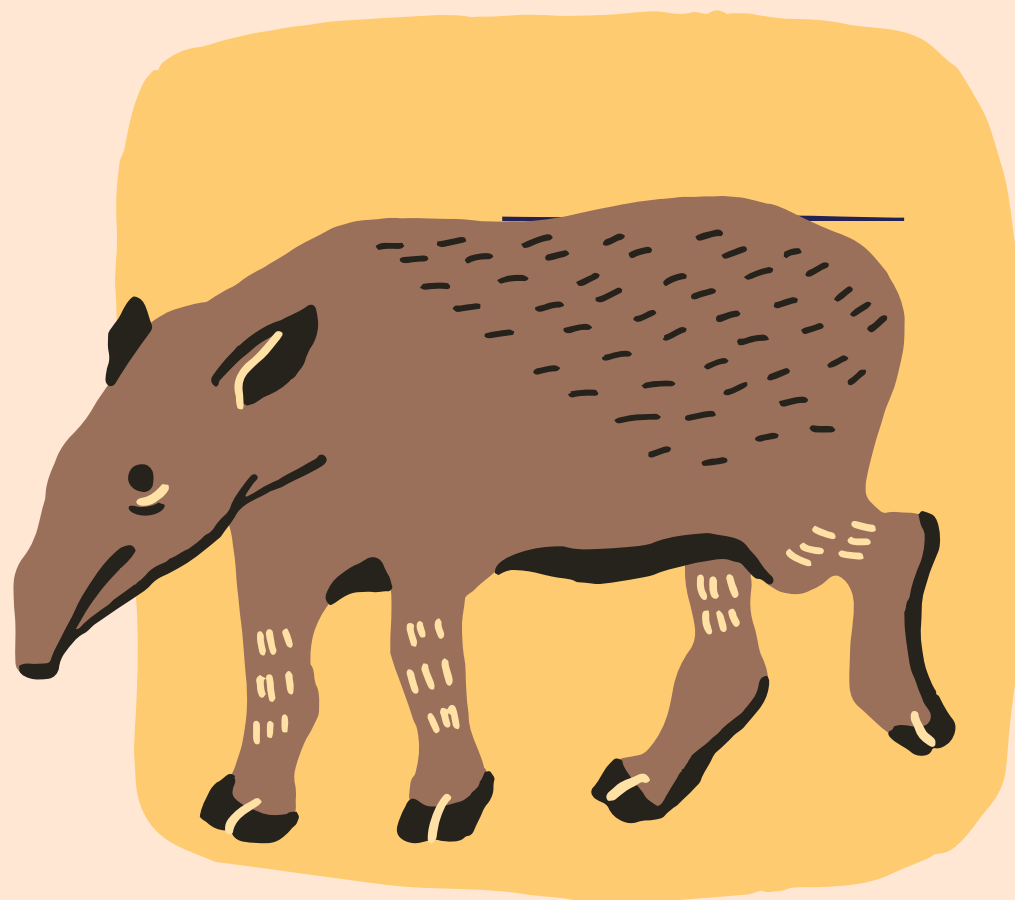

Urban legend

- the skinned tapir

ADM4V

- <https://papangunarede.com.br/?p=2796>
- EMANUELLE ALICE
- LETICIA FREITAS

ENGLISH

- The skinned tapir kept scaring the residents and the place became known as “Skinned Tapir” for a long time. Legend has it that a Jesuit missionary made a cross with the branches of the inharé (an abundant shrub at that time) and placed it on top of a rock where the tapir used to pass. After the new cross, the tapir was never seen again and the city became known as Nova Cruz.

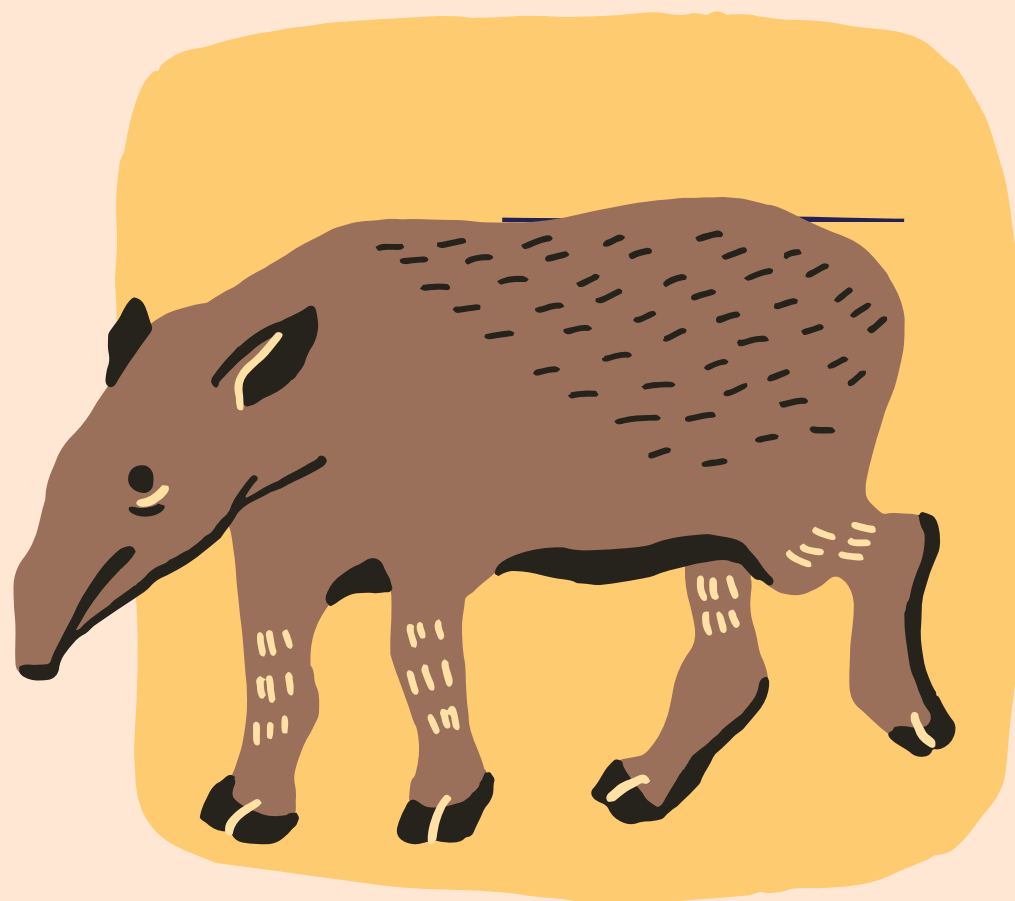

Urban legend

- the skinned tapir

Bibliography

- <https://papangunarede.com.br/?p=2796>

Translation

- “Existia no território uma anta com espírito maligno. Em determinado dia um astuto caçador conseguiu prender o animal numa armadilha. Na ânsia de tirar o feitiço da anta, o caçador partiu para esfolar o animal vivo. Mas logo no primeiro talho a anta conseguiu escapar, deixando para trás sua pele e penetrando mata adentro”

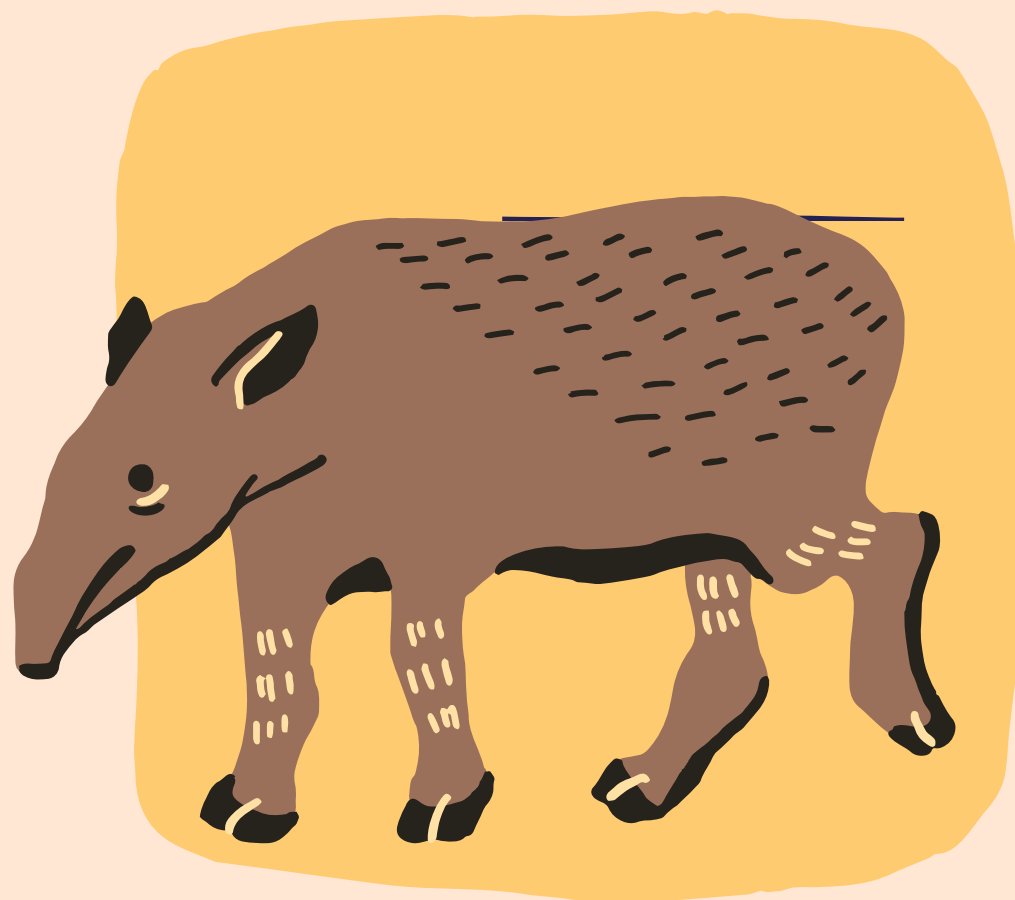

Urban legend

- the skinned tapir

Bibliography

- <https://papangunarede.com.br/?p=2796>

Translation

- A anta esfolada ficou amedrontando os moradores e o lugar ficou conhecido como “Anta Esfolada” durante muito tempo. Reza a lenda que um missionário jesuíta fez uma cruz com os ramos do inharé (arbusto abundante naquele tempo) e fincou no alto de uma pedra por onde a anta costumava passar. Depois da nova cruz, a anta nunca mais foi vista e a cidade ficou conhecida como Nova Cruz.

Urban legend

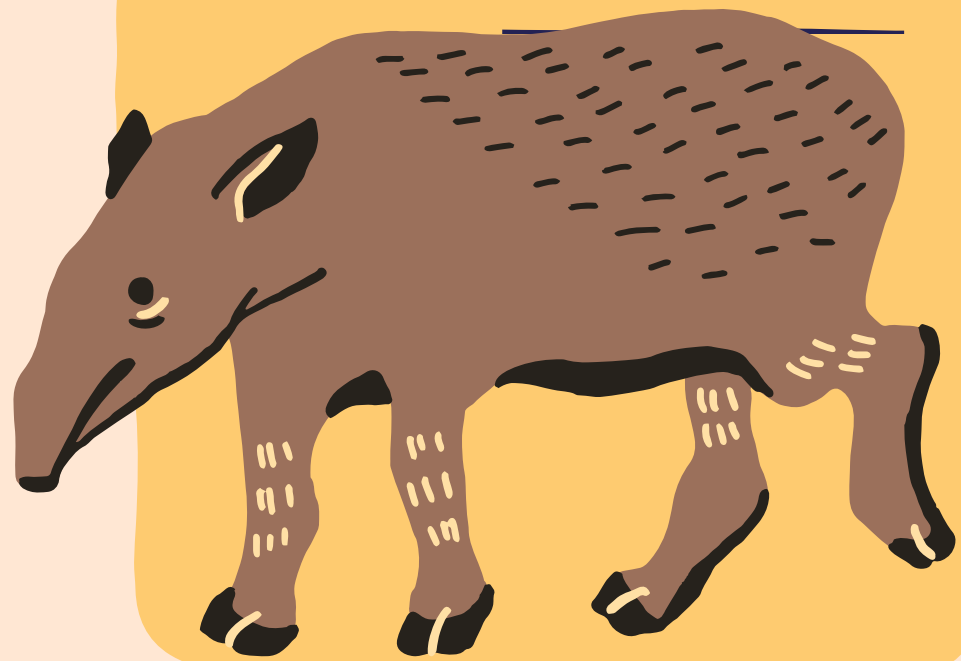

- the skinned tapir

Bibliography

- <https://papangunarede.com.br/?p=2796>

Questions

Speak one regular verb found in the text

Urban legend

- the skinned tapir

Bibliography

- <https://papangunarede.com.br/?p=2796>
- 